Through Next Week

Will Continue Efforts To Raise $1000 In Thomaston District

Representative Abildgaard of the Public Relations department of the Salvation Army will continue the drive to obtain a $1,000 fund in the towns of Thomaston, Port Clyde, Long Cove, Tenant's Harbor, St. George, Warren and South Warren through next week.

He states that there are now 91 such programs in operation in the State with a goodly portion of the monies collected being allocated for use in the towns in which it is raised and the remainder being assigned for Statewide use in the program of the Army.

Although he is making practically a house to house canvass of the area it will be impossible to reach everyone and he asks that donations be mailed to Harold Dana at the Thomaston National Bank, who is the fund treasurer.

Salvation Army contributions to USO funds will continue as long as there is need for such an organization. In addition, over 300 hundred Red Shield Servicemen's Clubs are maintained in this country and over 1,000 throughout the world.

Work with the veterans is carried on constantly with units and representatives in camps, bases, hospital and others working closely with State Veterans administration officers at all times.

Elliott M. Gamage of Rockland and Ashley E. Hubbard of Thomaston, seamen 2c have been discharged from the Navy Separation Center, Boston.

"Jimmy" As Host

Informal Party At Stahl's Tavern, Waldoboro, A Delightful Affair

On the eve of his departure for his home in Eagle Rock, Va., after a week's visit with his sisters, James H. McNamara played the role of host Wednesday night at a shore dinner at Stahl's Tavern, Waldoboro, his guests being Sheriff C. Earle Ludwick, County Attorney Stuart C. Burgess and Frank A. Winslow of Rockland and Col. Frederick G. Payne, Augusta's former mayor, who now makes his home in Waldoboro.

After the discussion of a six-course dinner served in the efficient style which distinguishes Stahl's Tavern, an hour or two was devoted to reminiscence in which Jimmy and the sheriff vied for honors.

Mr. McNamara's 40-years absence from his home city has not dimmed his memory of old time residents and old time events, and his anecdotes delightfully told as he lapsed now and then into dialect which made him so popular as an entertainer here before taking up his abode in the Southland.

The invitation to Col. Payne was born of Mr. McNamara's admiration for the man after hearing his recent address before the Rockland Lions Club, at which meeting the Virginian was a special guest. Col. Payne's story telling ability also added much to the pleasure of a gathering which the quintet will long remember.

Mr. McNamara, who observed his 86th birthday last week, was emphatic in his statement that he will revisit Rockland next Summer, when of course there will be another sit-in.

Edward W. Peaslee, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Peaslee of Augusta, formerly of Rockland, was discharged at Manchester, N. H., Oct. 30.

New Unit Formed

Dr. Harold Page Is President of the Coast Guard Auxiliary

The peacetime counterpart of the Coast Guard Temporary Reserve, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, has authorized the establishment of a flotilla in Rockland. These men who served throughout the war as temporary reservists, giving 12 hours a week on port security duty without pay are eligible as well as yachtsmen.

Election of officers last night resulted in the election of Dr. Harold Page as commander with Harold Whitehill as executive officer, and Howard Crozier as unit training officer.

Meetings will be held at the Community Building the first and third Thursday night of each month.

The unit officially submitted the name of its commanding officer to the Auxiliary Director for the First Naval District for the position of Division Captain of the Auxiliary units in this area.

Contractors are the Arthur M. Olive Company of Boston with the Frick Company of Waynesboro, Penn., installing the ice making machinery. Twenty-five local carpenters and laborers will be needed to carry out the four month project.

In addition to the ice plant, a second story is being added to the now freezer building which will serve as storage space for the firm.

The Kiwanis Club

Secretary of State Goss Tells Of His Trip To New Orleans

Kiwanians and guests thoroughly enjoyed a talk last night by Harold I. Goss, affable Secretary of State. Secretary Goss, introduced by Arthur H. Robinson of the program committee, told an interesting story of his trip to New Orleans, where he and Mrs. Goss went to attend a convention of Secretaries of State from all over the country.

Mr. Goss could not understand just why the site was selected for New Orleans for the reason that it is on low land and one of the principal streets (Canal) was once a canal. "The canal is still there, but for the most of its length it is covered," Secretary Goss explained.

"The people are great entertainers and also good salesmen," he stated. Until this visit, he never realized the vast amount of business conducted along the waterfront. His description of a trip to the French section of the city was replete with humor, especially concerning the excellent meal furnished at a 100-percent French eating place. "The meal, the principal dish being of trout, was delicious," Mr. Goss said, smacking his lips.

He went into some of the history of place from earliest settling by the French, and recited the exciting

Many Candidates

Sixteen Already Listed For City Council—Twelve For School Board

City Clerk Edwin R. Keene reports that 16 persons have filed their papers for candidacy for the new City Council. They are: Alfred L. Benner, Jesse E. Bradstreet, Albert J. Brickley, Donald G. Cummings, Oliver R. Hamlin, Charles M. Havenner, Augustus B. Huntley, John W. Lane, George R. Leonard, Albert C. McLoon, Edward C. Moran, Jr., Raymond C. Perry, William J. Sullivan, Roland G. Ware, Sumner P. Whitney and George B. Wood.

There are now 12 candidates for the new school board. Alphabetically they are: Louis R. Cates, Carl Griffith, Dr. Donald E. Haskell, Oliver W. Holden, H. Laton Jackson, Mrs. Madeline Jackson, Donald L. Kelsey, Allan P. McAlary, Charles H. McIntosh, John M. Richardson, Mrs. Elizabeth Seavey and Harold W. Whitehill.

events in the lives of two brothers, who were outlaws, but who became wealthy in their smuggling operations.

Those attending the convention visited Governor "Jimmy" Davis' mansion at Baton Rouge; the great Huey Long house, a modern office building some 25 stories high, and witnessed a thrilling football game between Louisiana State University and the Texas A. and M. College. The manner of handling traffic was unique and Mr. Goss summed it all up in the statement, "Traffic rules mean nothing to the big shots, they do as they (deleted word here) please."

President Donald G. Cummings conducted no business at this meeting, affording the speaker, one of the best of those who come from Augusta, ample time for his talk. Guests at the meeting were Ensign Joseph W. Lamb, Harry J. Gerrish, Gerald P. Black and Neil Novicka, S/Lt. Coast Guard, of Rockland, and John Gault of Portland, manager of the American Can Company in Maine.

Commander George H. Reed has had the phone installed in his apartments; 1408-W gets him.

To Dedicate Church

Public Invited To Services of Praise and Dedication Sunday

Rev. Curtis L. Stanley

A public dedicatory service will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday by the Rockland Church of the Nazarene in their newly acquired home at Maverick square. The property, known as the Derry Place has but recently come into the possession of the Church and Sunday's service will be one of gratitude and praise.

Rev. Curtis L. Stanley, busy pastor of the rapidly growing parish, will be in charge of the ceremonies which will include several special musical numbers, congregational singing and participation by the people in the Art of Dedication. The dedicatory sermon will be given by Rev. J. L. Albright, newly appointed superintendent of the New England District of the Church of the Nazarene.

The property is to be remodelled to suit it to the uses of the church, a notable feature being the creation of a good-sized auditorium. These improvements should be completed next Spring at which time the formal dedication will take place with an impressive roster of events and personages.

Farm Bureau Annual

Charles Kigel of Warren Elected President—County Agent Remembered

The 26th annual meeting of the Knox-Lincoln Farm Bureau was held this week in Willow Grange hall, Jefferson, with 250 present.

Mrs. Mary Nash, Camden, of the judging committee presented the following awards: Project exhibits, Damariscotta 1st; Nobleboro 2d; Boothbay 3d; and Jefferson 4th; Christmas gifts exhibits, Tenant's Harbor 1st; Montsweag 2d; Alna 3d; and Orr's Corner 4th.

Mrs. John Burgess, Waldoboro, made awards for "Square Meals for Health." Twenty-three communities in the county received these awards. Whitefield won the highest honor, having served the most square meals for health during the year.

An interesting talk was given in the forenoon by Miss Eleanor-Mary Dougherty, home service advisor of the Rockland Central Maine Power Company, on the post war kitchen.

Mrs. Gertrude Hupper, Tenant's Harbor, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following list of officers for 1946: President, Charles Kigel, Warren; vice president, David Chapman, Damariscotta; secretary-treasurer, Lester Shibles, Rockport; agricultural economics, Roland Gushue, Appleton; clothing, Mrs. Myrtle Taylor, Tenant's Harbor; club, Frank Flagg, Jefferson; crops, forestry, Herbert Cunningham, Washington; dairy, Winfield Cooper, Damariscotta; foods, Mrs. John Burgess, Waldoboro; home management, Marguerite Grindle, Rockland; orchard, Donald Johnston, Jefferson; poultry, Herbert Spear, Nobleboro.

The feature of the day was a talk by Dr. L. F. Livingston, a representative of the DuPont Company. He demonstrated some of the latest developments in science that have been used by the armed forces during the past few years and which will become available to the general public in the near future.

The membership report gave Rockland highest honors with 29 men and 21 women, a total of 50 members for 1946. Hope was second with 38 members and Damariscotta third with 36. The total membership to date being 664.

Dinner was served by the women of Willow Grange.

This was Mr. Wentworth's 25th year as County Agent. The retiring president, Norris Waltz, presented him with a silver collection from all Farm Bureau members.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

A practical joker who comes at regular intervals to his Rockland home "played one" on a very intimate friend who hails from New York but Summers not many miles from Rockland. The latter owns a splendid Winter estate in a Southern State, and he was amazed when he began to receive scores of applications for hotel accommodations which he was supposed to furnish. The secret was out when he discovered that the practical joker had inserted a conspicuous advertisement in a New York newspaper, explaining upon the "hotel's" exceptional qualifications and the wonderful scenery which surrounded it.

Mrs. Arthur Brewster sends me two interesting souvenirs. One is the centennial memorial of the Declaration of Independence, copies of which were presented to the patrons of The Rockland Gazette on the 100th anniversary of the adoption of that immortal document. It contains a fac simile of the signatures, and I wonder if there's anybody in Rockland who can recite them verbatim. The other souvenir is a "company order" issued Sept. 1, 1855, to Edward Brewster, a member of the Volunteer Militia of Maine.

Betsy Ross had nothing on Prisoner of War Thomas G. Essaff, San Francisco, who stitched secretly at night to make an American flag which was flown from the roof of the Naetsu POW camp in Japan to direct Yank pilots who dropped relief parcels. Essaff used white duck trousers, red neckerchiefs, and a blue bordered Japanese mosquito net to duplicate Old Glory. The masculine Betsy Ross earned the praise he received.

Operations along Main street Thursday morning, following the Halloween mischief, must have made the professional window washer wild with envy. Clerks and bosses put in a busy hour, with some comments unprintable.

State Police and representatives of the motor vehicle registration office are conducting examinations for drivers licenses at Rockland High School today.

STRANGERS YET

Strangers yet!
After years of life together,
After fair and stormy weather,
After travel in far lands,
After touch of wedded hands—
Why thus join'd? Why ever met,
If they must be strangers yet?
Strangers yet!
Oh! the bitter thought to scan
All the loneliness of man,
Nature, by magnetic laws,
Circle unto circle draws
But they only touch when met,
Never mingle—strangers yet.

Book Review

"Three Men In New Suits." Author, J. B. Priestley. Harper & Brothers, Publishers, New York.

This story of three demobilized soldiers in new citizens' suits, skimpily-cut because of the rush for cloth, branded these men. They become close friends, having survived the African and Central Europe fox-holes, and dangers all about them, through the war years; now home, and experiencing the hardships of changes which came during their years of absence.

Mr. Priestley, who gave us earlier "The Good Companion," was a master of searching into the deep waters of circumstances. This is a time for humans to think, and have ready helpful suggestions.

This novel will tend to open stay-at-home-eyes to the difficulties some are caught in, because of absence by duty. Together they have made plans for their future, these British chaps, not planning or alert for changes which had come. The book will give cause for much discussion and thinking sympathetically.

Kathleen S. Fuller.

THE COURIER-GAZETTE

Editor, FRANK A. WINSLOW
Associate Editor, MRS. WILLIAM O. FULLER

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1885 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

Subscriptions $3.00 per year, payable in advance; single copies four cents. Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

[EDITORIAL]

NO MORE DISMANTLING, PLEASE

For once at least the public will probably coincide with the House of Representatives which has recommended that the United States maintain a small, powerful and modern active fleet, backed by a large reserve which can be modernized on short notice. The peace-time Navy is blueprinted at 6004 combatant and auxiliary ships, including an active fleet composed of 297 major combat vessels and 1375 auxiliaries. This is a smaller force than the pre-Pearl Harbor fleet, but is heavier, and boy! it can hit harder. Uncle Sam is completely cured of the notion that a navy should be "junked" in peace time.

WE'RE BEING SOON FORGOTTEN

That old question "who won the war?" popped up again, indirectly, in the House of Commons Wednesday when Prime Minister Attlee omitted the names of Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. Montgomery in thanking those who had to do with the winning of the late war. This met with a prompt rebuke on the part of Winston Churchill. "Never" said he, "did any Generalissimo labor so successfully to weld together the forces at his disposal." We don't like to say it, but we fear that as time goes on the part that the United States played will grow dimmer and dimmer in the recollection of the European countries.

UP GOES THE PRICE OF BUTTER

The cow jumped over the moon again yesterday, and up went the price of butter five to six cents a pound. The O.P.A. had planned to put this increase into effect a week later but for reasons—and the O.P.A. is never short of them, it was speeded ahead to "prevent interference with the normal distribution." The agency explained that with wholesalers' price ceilings going up five cents a pound as scheduled, "retailers would be reluctant to purchase at the sharply increased cost to them if this increase could not be reflected (immediately) in their ceiling prices."

SEEKING CITY MANAGER

The city of Old Town has also adopted the Council-Manager form of Government and elects a Council of seven members Dec. 10. The committee is interested in obtaining a city manager—a problem which applies with equal force to Rockland. Although nobody knows who will comprise Rockland's new City Council insiders have a pretty shrewd suspicion that one has already been spotted.

TRYING "THE TIGER" IN JAPAN

In an improvised court room in Manila, in the same region where he stalked so ruthlessly, the "Tiger of Malaya" has been brought to bay. There Gen. Yamashita, confronted with incontestable evidence in the form of the mangled prey of his own jungle beasts, is fighting for his life.

With the aid of witnesses on stretchers, and even Japanese-made motion pictures showing prisoners of war undergoing torture, the General will be charged with responsibility for 59 special atrocities and 64 separate war crimes involving 57,000 deaths of Americans, Filipinos, and Allied nationals. Apparently the prosecution will not attempt to prove that Gen. Yamashita ordered the mass murders, rapes, executions of war prisoners, and tortures. Rather he is arraigned for failing in his duty as commander of Japanese forces in the Philippines "to control the operations of members of his command, permitting them to commit brutal atrocities and other high crimes," and thus violating "the laws of war."

This first war criminal trial in the Pacific—before a five-man American Army Board—will be watched with keen interest, not only because of world outrage at the crimes involved, but because it sets an important precedent. For it is the first time, so far as is known, that a military officer of such rank has been held legally responsible for his men's depredations. It is doubly a "trial" case, for its successful conclusion will pave the way for bringing to justice the next criminal on the list, Gen. Homma, commander of the death march from Bataan, as well as subordinate generals.—Christian Science Monitor.

So says a representative of the Ration Board.

NYLONS of course - BUT OUR CUSTOMERS COME FIRST ...

Yes! We're glad to say we'll be getting our share of new NYLONS just as soon as the mills start shipping them. With our 42-store buying power, we've always been big distributors of hosiery, and we expect to get a reasonable supply of NYLONS when available.

However, we know that whatever quantities we get will not be enough to supply the demand. Shipments at first will be in small amounts, not anywhere near enough to go around.

We want our customers to get these NYLONS, so we've evolved this simple plan whereby you may purchase your NYLONS without participating in a free-for-all shopping rush.

• ASK FOR OUR BELL SHOPS PRIORITY CERTIFICATE

Next time you're in our store, ask for a NYLONS PRIORITY CERTIFICATE. Fill it out carefully, writing or printing your name legibly. Then give it to the clerk.

When we receive our NYLONS, we'll notify you by postcard when to call for yours. Postcards will be sent out in the order in which priority certificates are filled. In this way you may shop comfortably, conveniently, and you are sure of getting your NYLONS.

• NOT ONE, BUT 2 PAIRS TO A CUSTOMER

And here's some of the brightest news of all. TWO PAIRS OF NYLONS TO A CUSTOMER. This allotment is just another way of rewarding your loyalty to Bell Shops.

• NYLONS ONLY TO PRIORITY HOLDERS

Our NYLONS will be distributed only to those with priority certificates. Therefore, we cannot accept any mail or phone orders. You must come into our store and fill out your certificate. Please do it next time you're in our vicinity. We want to make sure that all Bell Shop customers will get their NYLONS.

Remember: the sooner you fill out your priority certificate, the sooner you'll receive your NYLONS.

SERMONETTE

Dangerous Apathy

It is difficult to understand the average citizen's apathy to world conditions. Fathers and mothers seemingly indifferent to the proposals before Congress for compulsory military training for the children, during their school life.

It is not necessary to discuss the question of whether it would be a good thing for the nation or not. Probably it would be. It is one of the musts of tomorrow; the thing that matters is that parents are too absorbed in the pursuit of material things to give the matter much thought.

How much concern do you observe among your friends about the atomic bomb, or the jet propelled rocket, which even today could soon be brought to destroy the great cities of this country from Europe? How much do people understand radar which could locate these targets through cloud, fog or smoke?

The great scientists, Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer and Dr. H. J. Curtis, makers of bomb making projectiles testified Oct. 17 in Congress. Senator Fulbright asked Oppenheimer, whether it was a fair statement to say that 43,000,000 Americans could be destroyed in the atomic raid.

"I am afraid it is," he replied. Think of it, one-third of the population in one raid! At Los Alamos, N. M., 400 experts have been studying just one problem, the atomic bomb. They conclude, "The advantage would lie with the aggressor; there are, as yet no counter measures. The bomb is a deadly challenge to civilization."

Today is picture of a 5000-pound ordinary bomb, which has been used, and beside it a 45,000-pound bomb never used. These sobering facts ought to take minds off material matters.

Jesus said, "Do not seek what ye shall eat or drink but seek the Kingdom of God and all these things shall He give you besides."

People are denying themselves their best friend.
William A. Holman.

Rockland Lions

Got a Double Header In the Way of Guest Speakers
Wednesday

Members of the Lions Club, at their Wednesday noon meeting, sweated out a B-29 mission over Japan as truly as if they had ridden one of the giant bombers in Lieut. Col. Ellery D. Preston's group of the 20th Air Forces themselves.

"Red" took them from the time the giant planes were readied, the crews briefed and the run down the all-to-short runways of Tinian in the Marianas, the pilots and crew straining every muscle and nerve to pull or wish the plane into the air before she reached the fast approaching end of the runway.

Then followed long hours of flying in formation. He commanded a group of 35 ships, until the shores of Japan were reached and then the race across the island to the target area for that mission. The target had to be reached, regardless of what fighter opposition the Nips sent up or the flak that blanketed the sky ahead of and around them.

Over the target, and the bombs dropped, it was a case of fighting their way back through the Jap fighter screen and dodging their anti-aircraft until shores of Honshu were cleared, then the settling back for the long run back to Tinian perhaps nursing a badly damaged plane and caring for wounded crew members, too.

Two Jims was the insurance that damaged planes would find haven and seriously wounded men would receive medical care at once. More planes were saved by this emergency field than this nation could have replaced, had they had to have "ditched" at sea, in many months. Far more men lived to fly again because of two's facilities than the number who gave their lives to secure it for the allies.

Col. Preston entered the Army Air Corps in May of 1940, trained at Mitchell Field and was sent to Panama in November of the same year. When war broke out, he was assigned to duty in the Dutch West Indies on anti-submarine patrol where he earned one star on his American Theatre ribbon.

Returning to the States in February of 1944, he was assigned to B-29 training in New Mexico and took his group to Tinian, via John Rodgers airport at Honolulu, one of the longest over water hops in aviation.

In all, he and his group completed 14 missions on Nippon with a minimum of 15 hours spent in the air on each trip.

Col. Preston wears the Air Medal with two clusters, the Pacific area ribbon with two stars, the American ribbon with one star, the American Defense ribbon and the Presidential Citation.

On sick leave from Lovell General Hospital until Nov. 5, he expects to return to duty in the continental U.S. until separation from the service.

"Rockland was mis-interpreted to me," declared Rev. Maldwyn V. Parry minister of the Congregational Church, prefacing his address. A college chum from a thriving Knox County town, returning from weekends over a period of six years, had nothing particularly good to say about Rockland, which he usually visited on these trips.

"I have met a large number of people in Rockland and find them rating high in my estimation, all very social and extremely cordial to a stranger and you surely have a beautiful city and environs," Mr. Parry said, apparently from the bottom of his heart.

His topic was, "The Basis of Our Opinions," the same thoughtful address given before members of the Baptist Men's League, and reviewed in The Courier-Gazette, Oct. 19.

Frank A. Winslow introduced Mr. Parry, referring to a pun recited by Mr. Parry at the meeting of the Baptist Men's League, concerning such gatherings as service clubs, "It's not the menu which counts, but the men you sit with."

Gerald S. Grant, vice president, conducted the meeting, introducing as a new member, Louis Yaden, production manager of the Van Baalen Heilbrun Company. Visiting Lions were Almon B. Cooper of Sanford and Rev. William E. Berger of Camden. Lieut. Col. Ellery D. Preston was the guest of Ellery T. Nelson. Dr. James F. Burgess introduced his four-year-old dog, "Brownie," who seemed to take much interest in the activities, rising to his feet every time the Lions were up for any part of their ritual.

Dr. Bradford F. Burgess made an announcement concerning a meeting at Vinalhaven the following night, and also about a get-together at the Lincolnville Center Grange hall Tuesday night.

Almon B. Cooper told about vis-
